

Chapter 39

Getting Ready For Elections May 1, 2021

The question is how can the conservatives win the 2022 Election or any election. (web version)

The one thing we need to bring to a swift end is the monopolies created by groups of billionaires and their puppets. This can be easily done. First note there is high coupling between the physical world and the spiritual world. Sometimes it is strikingly obvious that some physical things have their spiritual component. Other times it takes some investigation to see this relationship. Then second, looking at the language of the physical world, mathematics, there is this discipline called game theory and within game theory there is Nash Equilibrium. Nash Equilibrium is used primarily in math, software, and economics and includes the models not only for a single entity but groups of many entities. Applying this concept to groups of billionaires and their puppets and organizations we have a basis to use monopoly laws. Most of our problems stem from these groups trying to convert the world to be their serfs, as they set themselves up to be the more equal pigs to rule us. We fought the equality of the King of England to gain our freedom and now our ignorant children want to trade their freedom for equality under these all but invisible billionaires. They are using the strategy of Hitler as seen through history and his book: Mein Kampf. There are many other examples like The Prince by Machiavelli or any of the despots in history. We need to remove all sources of their power, capture their assets, and fix all their messes they created in one swift act, maybe today. To help understand how to do this read "The Judicial Branch needs to be fixed to Save our Country". Then we need to clean up the schools systems and reeducate their graduates.

Most of the questions you ask about in your surveys are the distractions they have created so they can make us serfs.

Here are some of their distractions and some solutions:

- 1) Communicate with the Democratic voters using an emotional context.
- 2) Right now, go after all the voting violations and create recalls for those people in office until the voting count can be completed and provide punishment for violations.
- 3) Build a platform to support the desires of the emotional people.
- 4) We need to get the emotionalist out of our educational systems.

- 5) What happens when a person's ego is so important that the person is willing to physically die rather than surrendering their ego?
- 6) Other traps to plan for
- 1) Communicate with emotional people using only an emotional posture. Use their vocabulary, their emotional desires. I asked a few of them about their thoughts and it came down to "respecting their feelings". That is not surprising because all of us want to be respected, however it is their feelings they want respected. It is all about how they feel about others and themselves. The expression of their feelings: The big hug, the kind word. Remember emotions are responsible for converting their feelings, their desires into action. They want immediate results. Typically, they will set up a support group with others that feel the same way so they can be justified to live out their desires. These groups will all reflect their same response to any current topic. Their truth comes from within; it is truth based on how many events agree. It is supported by repetition. Their truth is found in Dr. Harris's "The Parent" and "The Child". Their truth is not external; it is not based on analytical analysis using the scientific method. Their truth does not come from Dr. Harris's "The Adult". With other emotional supporters, it is important that they have this support of repetition or echo to make it true. They are supportive of their associates and expect their associates to support them and if their associates don't, they may feel betrayed and may emotionally respond with their feelings accordingly. An exquisite example of a supportive feelings based actress is Anne Baxter, especially in the role of Nefertari in the 1956 movie "The Ten Commandments", Every move she makes, every word she says, shapes the actions of the other roles in the movie and the audience. Their workplace is filled with objects reflecting the care of others and things they care about are kept close to them on the desk: like family pictures, or pictures of their dog or cat. This is the most common personality trait. Be a chameleon, put yourself into supportive mode. Speak sincerely from your heart. It is necessary to always talk with them about how they feel etc. before starting your communication with them. Talk about the close pictures you see in their office. Make sure you reflect their caring image of a supportive friend in your meeting place or office. Family pictures, pets, and any living environment along with the proper emotional vocabulary. "How are you feeling today", or how do you feel about something "How do you feel about this new bill?" Always start with living things first and then do your business. Use a slow southern smile and make sure you take your time and focus on them. It is necessary to always talk with them about how they feel etc. before starting your communication with them. Your communication should include inclusive comments, like how do you feel about this idea? It is like turning on a light switch when you enter their space. Working in the dark is not fun for anyone. Don't forget, to smile, and pay attention to them. It is all about your respect for them and their ideas.

{How are you doing?}

- 2) The Michigan Republican Party mail said, "we just won a huge lawsuit against liberal Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson and we're not going to stop until we ensure that 2022 is the most secure election in history." Funny thing, this person stole the value of my vote and I want it returned. When a thief is convicted of a crime the item stolen is returned to its' rightful owner. What is Senator Peters doing in Washington? He needs to be sent home until the votes can be justified or if they cannot be justified, then leave the Michigan post empty, with no governor replacement. Further, there needs to be swift punishment, now. Stop talking about the 2022 election that is a different topic. Further, there is the Michigan Supreme court, and the many educational posts that were possibly also stolen.
- 3) They want to make a difference with global warming. So good, focus on the horrendous pollution problem China and India are creating. So when we go to France we want these two countries to upgrade their pollution standards to meet ours before we get involved in improving ours. Further they need to undo the damages they did. Make it clear we want to improve our pollution problems and we need to see the heavy polluters get up to snuff now. Maybe include the fact that these two countries are not paying the pollution cost in their products, so maybe provide penalties for them from the rest of the industrial world. If the Democrats fail to do this, say the Democrats don't care about pollution. Set it up, and when they fail, be all over it. Look at other items we can bring to our advantage.
- 4) Our Educational system, especially after these years:

1940 Supreme Court Justice Black removed the relevance of using the dictionary and other documents used at the time of the writing of documents in government. He replaced the states as the supreme government entity and replaced them with the United States government. This is one of FDR's big steps toward socialism.

1948 The groundwork for an educational classification system was started by a group of college examiners at the 1948 American Psychological Association Convention in Boston. They proposed writing three Handbooks using psychologists' studies in human behavior. (A psychologist human behavior emphasizes human feelings or emotions.) Further, they adapted socialism, emotionalism, and the first level of cognitive thought, Knowledge that is teaching the children to memorize data and parrot it back. These became our educational standard. This leaves the Billionaires, and their puppets being the only people trained in all personality styles and the six levels of cognitive thought. These people create emotionalist scenarios in which they can pull the general population around by their nose and straight into socialism. The poor students should not have to suffer the hard work of learning how to think, and so we call them snowflakes.

Education has been progressively turned to teaching emotionalism and the lowest level of cognitive thought, knowledge. We need to teach all the personality styles and include analysis, synthesis, and evaluation levels of cognitive thought. Expand their range of tolerance for other personality styles. We must all become Chameleons. The tool to stimulate creative thought is Mathematics, which is the answer here. That is why Bill Gates is against Mathematics. We need to undo President Johnson period of destruction of education. Return the Judeo-Christian society and use some history books printed around 1900 to less than 1939. Copy what we were teaching in 1950 until we can fix this mess. Remove all the Educational Psychological PhD's and master degrees in the educational system, along with all the disciplines in the arts and science department except math, physics, and chemistry. Or at least until they can be fixed and in any event, these should not be taught until the third year of their education, do this for the public schools and higher institutions of learning. For colleges require an extensive foundation in math to graduate, maybe The Laplace Transforms used in feedback control systems. We need our Mathematicians, Physicist, Medical Doctors, Attorneys, and Engineers to understand how the world works and the higher levels of cognitive thought.

For the people already brainwashed we need to observe and punish inappropriate acts against our freedom. For example, we need court procedures to be recorded in the highest video resolution for public view and evidence of emotional judges, and some using Dr. Thomas Harris's prejudice and other legal violations. Analytical logical construct must be required.

- (5) What happens when a person's ego is so important that the person is willing to physically die rather than surrendering their ego? Why do these people believe the battle starts and ends with the police officers? All the sources of information for Dr. Harris's "The Parent" contradict each other. Even if the real parent provides no prejudice, all the other sources before age 6 or so are accepted as true: pre-school, TV especially PBS, and all the arts are emotionally based.

When the court systems practice prejudice against them the best defense is not go to court in the first place. Their ego is so dominated by their messed up "The Parent" (the recordings accepted to be true before the age of 6 or so) that they cannot act as an adult, which is Dr. Harris's "The Adult". So there are two problems, their messed up brainwashed mind and the non-analytical judges.

Some people treat people in roles of authority, like police, with gross disrespect. They would rather die then straighten out their minds. Our public servants need our support and need not be falsely dragged off to court, the police are not the guilty party here. Give them tranquilizer guns like the ones used on wild animals. Comply with their orders or be tranquilized or shot. The collateral damage using tranquilizer guns should be less then using guns. When there is no immediate danger, waiting for a better time and place to arrest them would seem to be the best choice. However, if they do not surrender to the authority of the police, laws will have to assume they are guilty of being drunk etc. But when are they not going to be a problem later? Once again, there are two problems, their messed up brainwashed mind and the non-analytical judges. Seldom does the police start the problem.

(6) Other traps to plan for. If the democrats invade red states with their destruction just before the next election, what are our governors plans. During my age, governors authorized the National Guard to shoot to kill and they turned around and went home.

Looking in dictionaries before 1940 we see Religion includes all sects of religion that worship a loving God. We need to support our (loving God) religions to meet our new people coming into our country. Have them join our churches. Further, they need to have proper books and teachers, maybe in special orientation classes supported in private schools for a few years. We need new religious blood. The old textbooks back in 1900 may help. Discuss the topic with William Federer he could help us.

William Federer has a long career of written works involving American History and religion, the Faith of our Founding Fathers.
